

WILL RUN TRAINS WITHIN 2 WEEKS

Opening of Traffic Over Western Pacific Announced by S. V. Derrah.

Still another important era in the history of Utah and Nevada developments, one that will be of especial interest to Salt Lake, will occur within two weeks when the Western Pacific railroad, the Gould line, which has been under construction from here to San Francisco for the past two years, will be opened up for passenger and freight traffic to Shafter, Nev.

The effect that the opening of the eastern end of the Western Pacific road will have on the progress and up-building of Salt Lake can hardly be estimated. It will mean that a vast amount of additional Nevada ore will be shipped to the smelters in the Salt Lake valley, the time from here to central Nevada points will be materially shortened, a tremendously rich and new country will be opened up and vast quantities of freight will be shipped here as the central distribution point. Official announcement of the opening up of the eastern part of the road has just been made by S. V. Derrah, assistant general freight agent of the Denver & Rio Grande, with headquarters in the Judge building here. He will have charge of all the traffic over the new road, both passenger and freight. Mr. Derrah said to a Herald reporter yesterday in regard to the important event: "This announcement of the opening up of the Western Pacific road is based upon information which I have received from the east. No definite date has been set for the opening up of the line, but it will occur in ten or fifteen days. There will be no ceremony to mark the event. "It has not yet been decided how far from Salt Lake the road will be opened up, though I believe it will be to Shafter, Nev., where it will cross the Nevada Northern road. The line has been completed as far as Wells, Nev., 210 miles from here, and it may possibly be opened to there. "The starting of a new railroad, of course, is a very crude affair at first, but some kind of a start must be made and then the efficiency of the service will be steadily improved and increased. No train schedules have yet been arranged, in fact, no details have been gone into. All that I can definitely say now is that the road will be opened up very soon and that the event will be a mighty factor in the development of this country."

Over 100 miles of the western end of the Western Pacific is now in operation from Oakland, Cal., east. The gap which remains to be spanned by the rails extends from Wells, Nev., to the eastern point of the line in California, and all possible haste is being employed in completing it. Two thousand men are now working on that unfinished section of the line, and between six and eight months is the estimated time when the entire system will be completed. Nearly 80 per cent of the grading and over 65 per cent of the tunneling of the gap is now finished, and the lightest part of the construction work remains. The tariffs of the eastern part of the road are being prepared for the opening and arrangements for the equipment made. Stations have been built at Grants, Delia, Wendover and Shafter, though Mr. Derrah has not yet appointed the agents for the various stations.

Be Sure

Do not trust too much to your own judgment in medical matters. Consult your doctor frequently. He knows best. Hard colds, hard coughs, severe bronchitis, weak throats, weak lungs. We wish you would ask your doctor if he knows of anything better for these troubles than Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. We believe it is the best medicine you could possibly take. But ask your doctor, and thus be sure. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
